

CASE STUDY: Rising to the Challenge

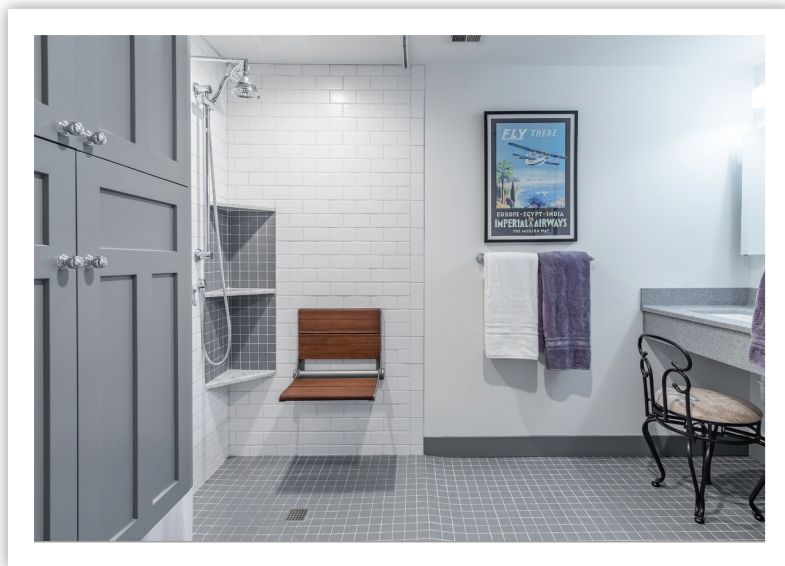

DIAGNOSIS: MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

JOHN'S STORY

John was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis 10 years ago. With three grown children, they were looking to relocate from their two-story in the suburbs to an accessible location in the city. They found a condo that they liked, but it needed an accessible bathroom for John. Their move was contingent on that aspect, so the challenge was both time and design driven to render it a success.

THE SOLUTION

The plan required relocation of the existing mechanical systems and capturing space from an adjacent storage area. The bathroom was reconfigured to accommodate a curbless shower, a roll under sink and a wall-hung toilet. LifeWise created the design that satisfied the owners, engineers, city inspectors and the building homeowner's association.
